Problem Statement #34 – Retail, E-Commerce & Finance

Digital Gift Card & Loyalty Point Exchange

1. Epics & User Stories

The Jira backlog is organized into four functional Epics. Each Epic contains User Stories that represent the required end-user functionality of the Digital Gift Card & Loyalty Point Exchange system.

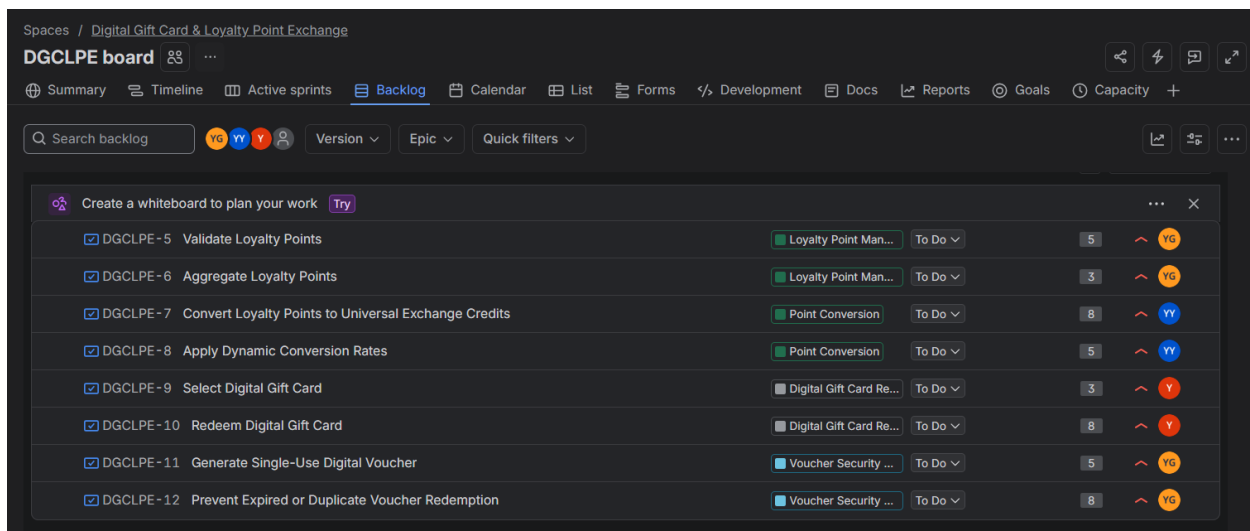

Epic	Description	Priority
Loyalty Point Management	Enable account holders to manage and validate loyalty points received from different merchant partners, ensuring that only valid points are available for exchange.	High
Point Conversion	Enable account holders to convert validated merchant loyalty points into universal exchange credits using applicable dynamic conversion rates.	High
Digital Gift Card Redemption	Enable account holders to select and redeem digital gift cards from supported merchant partners using universal exchange credits.	High
Voucher Security & Anti-Fraud	Provide secure digital voucher generation and anti-fraud controls to ensure that gift card vouchers are single-use and cannot be redeemed after expiry or previous redemption.	High

4. Burndown Chart

Metric	Sprint 1	Sprint 2
Initial Work	21 Story Points	24 Story Points
Completed Work	21 Story Points	24 Story Points
Remaining Work	0 Story Points	0 Story Points

The burndown charts represent sprint progress by showing the remaining story points over the course of each sprint. As User Stories are moved from To Do to In Progress and finally to Done, the remaining workload decreases toward zero.

5. Reflection

1. Did your estimations reflect the actual effort?

Yes. Story points were assigned based on relative effort, complexity, and uncertainty. Smaller activities such as aggregating points and selecting a gift card were estimated at 3 points, while validation, voucher generation, and conversion-related activities received higher estimates.

2. Was your backlog well-prioritized?

Yes. Core activities such as loyalty-point validation and conversion were prioritized because they form the main workflow of the system. Gift-card redemption and voucher security were then completed to finish the secure redemption process.

3. How did your simulated sprint align with your plan?

The two sprints followed the planned scope. Sprint 1 contained 21 story points and Sprint 2 contained 24 story points. All eight planned User Stories were distributed across the two sprints and completed.

4. What insights did the burndown chart give about your team's capacity?

The burndown charts showed the reduction of remaining work as the User Stories were completed. Both sprints reached zero remaining story points, indicating that the planned sprint workload was completed.
